beacon of hope . . .

Engage & Embrace: Service

When we engage in ministry and embrace God's love through the reading of the Bible, participating in worship, experiencing prayer, and gathering for fellowship, we are inspired to serve others. It is the hope we are given that we then want to turn around and share with others. When others are in need, we respond. When others are in crisis, we help. When others are hurting, we care. When others are in pain, we provide healing.

Reaching out to others with the hope of God is the product of our faith and the love of God. Treating each other how we would want one treated is service. Looking for ways to build up, not tear down, the community is service. Taking the hope of God into the hope-less world in which we live is about serving all of God's people, no exceptions!

In God's Peace,
